

ESIS

Malaysian law requires employers to conduct written assessments of health risks created by hazardous chemicals used by their employees.

The CHRA must be conducted by an approved and registered assessor. The CHRA is designed to control air contaminants in Malaysian buildings and occupancies.

ESIS has a certified CHRA assessor in Malaysia who can perform these assessments.