

ESIS

Mold is a potential exposure in many types of buildings and occupancies.

Our assessment will identify the potential mold contaminants and control methods by taking and analyzing samples and evaluating the environment.